

THIS SECTION IS GREAT SURPRISE

Milwaukee Merchants Find Changes Here In Last Nine Years

Referring to the recent excursion of the Milwaukee Merchants and Manufacturers' Association through northern Wisconsin the Evening Wisconsin says:

"Wisconsin's natural resources and manufacturing activities were revealed to Milwaukee business men during the trade excursion of last week in a light hardly suspected but wonderfully interesting and enjoyable.

"Nine years ago practically the same field was covered. The advancement in those years was a revelation to those members of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association who made the trip at that time. Industries have grown up in surprising numbers, new towns were seen that had not existed before, farming ground had been cleared extensively and prosperity was seen everywhere.

"At every city or village where the special train stopped a sufficient number of automobiles was at command to provide the visitors with a drive. More notably was this fact in evidence at villages with a population of 1,000 or less. The automobiles were not owned by the villagers but by farmers, chiefly.

"The development of the telephone and the extension of rural mail service also were notable improvement factors disclosed. There is hardly a highway in northern Wisconsin not wired for telephone conversation, and rural mail boxes are standing before almost every farm house. The farmers, it was said, were enjoying the facilities of the city.

"Secretary William George Bruce of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, expressed the consensus of opinion of the participants of the trip when he declared that a more widely extended interest was shown this year than ever before, that the farmers flocked to the cities to participate in the reception and exchange of business talks and the Milwaukee people came back from the trip with a much more intelligent knowledge of Wisconsin's resources, and he is confident that Milwaukee's manufactured products have found a wider field. The belief possessed by many that northern Wisconsin was a barren waste has been effectively dispelled.

ELKS BASE BALL LEAGUE

Movement On Foot To Organize Teams Of Neighboring Lodges

It is planned to form an Elks' base ball league composed of teams from the Rhinelander, Ashland, Antigo, Waunakee, Merrill and Ironwood lodges. The idea originated with Charles Conroy and other members of the Rhinelander lodge and it looks as though the project will be realized.

The plan as outlined is to arrange a regular schedule of games among the teams to be represented. There is no question but what the Elks' lodges throughout this district will enter into the movement.

Since the Ashland-Rhinelander game in this city last Sunday the proposition of organizing an Elks league has met with more favor than ever and Mr. Conroy will vigorously push the matter.

THE CITY WATER

The city water was analyzed in Madison on June 6th, 1913 and was pronounced fair drinking water. There were no injurious bacteria found in it but it was found to contain a large amount of organic matter such as would come from logs or vegetation. I would suggest that the citizens filter the water to remove this organic matter and would also suggest that the city enlarge their filtration plant. Signed, J. T. ELLIOTT, M. D., Health Officer.

FORTY POUND MUSKY

Chicago Men Catch Monster Fish In Boom Lake

One of the largest muskallonge ever taken from the Wisconsin river was captured Saturday morning by George Pfeifer of Chicago assisted by F. E. Hill also of that city and William Reynolds. The monster fish which measured four feet five inches in length and weighed forty and one-half pounds was hooked by Mr. Pfeifer while trolling in Boom Lake. He at first imagined that a snag had been encountered owing to the stress on his line. He soon became convinced, however, that he had hooked some live aquatic which might be anything from a devil fish to a sea serpent, and called for assistance. William Reynolds, who was rowing the boat, grabbed the line and Mr. Hill, who was in another boat, joined in the fight which lasted over an hour before the big "wolf of the waters" was finally brought along side Mr. Pfeifer's boat. Four revolver shots fired by Mr. Reynolds ended his muskship's struggles.

The fish attracted more attention than a circus parade as it was carried through the streets by the three gentlemen. Mr. Pfeifer was so elated over his prize that several times he was heard to whoop like a Sioux Indian. The fish was shipped to Chicago to be mounted.

Messrs. Pfeifer and Hill, while here were guests at the Reynolds home. Mrs. Pfeifer has been in the city for the last month visiting her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Reynolds.

HOLZHEY SOON TO GET HIS FREEDOM

"Black Bart" May Be Released From Marquette Prison In August

Raymond Holzhey, "Black Bart," the lone bandit who a quarter of a century ago terrorized the people of northern Wisconsin and Michigan, is soon to be released from the Marquette prison to where he was sentenced for life, almost at the time the institution was opened. Rhinelander's early residents well remember Holzhey and his last stand which was the hold-up of the Gogebic stage coach and the taking of human life which followed.

The Marquette Journal states that the time of Holzhey's release is all a matter of good time. In the Marquette prison good time has been figured on the basis of 365 days to the year. In Jackson it has been figured thirty days to the month, or 360 days to the year.

Secretary Austin, of the board of pardons, will now ask the attorney general for an opinion as to how good time should be figured. If the attorney general says it should be computed on the basis of 365 days to the year, Holzhey will have to linger on at the Marquette prison until November. If the attorney general says that 360 days make a year he will be let out early in August.

In any event Holzhey will be at liberty before the snow flies. He will gain his liberty as a result of clemency exercised by former Governor Warner, who, at the close of his last term, commuted Holzhey's sentence to forty years. This course was urged on Governor Warner by many influential men in Michigan and by all the prison officials, and so great is the confidence in Holzhey inspired by his unique prison record and the unusual qualities of mind that he possesses that the governor's course with regard to his case aroused practically no criticism.

KICK CAUSES DEATH

Paul Drilla Meets With Fatal Injuries Caring For Horse

Paul Drilla, a well known farmer of Robbins, died late last Thursday afternoon in St. Mary's hospital from injuries received when kicked by a horse.

Mr. Drilla met with the accident while caring for one of his horses. The animal kicked him in the abdomen causing internal injuries. He was not removed to the hospital for several days and his condition was found to be too serious for help.

The victim was fifty-six years of age and is survived by a family. The remains were buried in Robbins.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christian of the north side welcomed their eighteenth child, a baby girl, to their home Tuesday. The Christian family is one of the largest, if not the largest in Oneida county.

Mrs. Cora McGill of Waunakee is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Starks on Anderson street.

TRAIN KILLS FRED AMES

Former Rhinelander Boy Meets Death In Idaho

Fred Ames, son of George Ames, Sr., who with his family moved to Sand Point, Idaho, a short time ago, was killed by a train in Sand Point, Sunday evening. News of the accident was received by relatives in this city Tuesday. The particulars are not known here at this time.

The unfortunate young man was about twenty-four years of age and was well thought of by all who knew him in this city.

For many years previous to going to the west the Ames family made Rhinelander their home and their friends here sympathize with them in their recent trouble.

LOCAL BILLS WIN FROM ASHLAND

Elks Base Ball Game Sunday Results in Victory For 598 By 8 to 6

In a fast, snappy game, played with many brilliant plays, Rhinelander, B. P. O. Elks defeated the Ashland B. P. O. Elks Sunday by a score of 8 to 6.

M. Gardner, on the bill for the visitors, showed red class and proved to be an enigma to the Rhinelander stickers, fourteen of them winning the air. Poor support at critical moments lost the game for him.

Lefty Lilly, recently released by Marquette University for the summer season, did the heaving for the home order and pitched a consistent game throughout. In only one inning did he have trouble, that being in the fourth when four hits were made off his delivery, and this coupled with three errors, allowed four scores.

There was no further scoring for the Ashland Elks until the eighth, when with a series of misplays two more runs were made.

The home team scored one in the first, added two more in the fifth and went into the lead in the seventh with five runs.

Ashland's work at second for the locals was a feature of the game. He covered all kinds of territory on the defensive, figured in a double play, and on the offensive made two baggers and a single when hits mean runs.

All in all it was as good a game as has been played on the local diamond in years. The Ashland Elks have a fast team composed of good clean, sportlike fellows, a team that can take a defeat as cheerfully as a victory.

The public showed considerable surprise at the small numbers of Elks present at the game to support their team.

When the Ashland team arrived Saturday night they were escorted to the Club Rooms on Davenport St. where a light luncheon was served, a smoker following.

Sunday evening the visitors were entertained with a launch ride up the Wisconsin river, the party returning in ample time to allow the Ashland boys to make the 4 o'clock train for home.

A return game will be played at an early date.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R H E
Ashland 0 0 0 4 0 0 2 0 6 7
Rhinelander 1 0 0 2 0 5 0 8 7
Summary—2 base hits, Ashton 2 McDonald, double play, Lilly to Ashton to O'Melia; stolen bases, Ashton 2, Rathbun 2, Diglow, M. Gardner; hit by pitched ball, Miles, Hime; struck out by Gardner 14, Lilly 6, Umpires, Gardner and Edwards.

DR. WELCH AGAIN HERE

Dr. T. R. Welch has again located in Rhinelander and will occupy the offices in the Beardon block where Dr. J. T. Elliott formerly had his quarters. Dr. Welch's friends here are pleased to see him return to this city.

Mrs. Henry McNeill returned to her home in Milwaukee today.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR JULY FOURTH

Celebration Will Be The Biggest And Best Ever Held In This City

All arrangements for the July 4th celebration in Rhinelander have been completed by the various committees in charge and now all that is necessary to make the day the greatest in the annals of the city is good weather. It is hoped that the weather man will be in an amiable mood and control the elements so that the day will not be marred by rain.

One feature of the parade on the morning of the 4th will be the large number of floats in line. The business houses and industrial institutions of the city will be well represented with appropriate and attractive displays. Not only will these floats add to the splendor of the parade but will give strangers a true impression of the commercial activity of the city.

The committee on sports requests that entries be made for the following races within the next week: Pony race, horse race, farmers' horse race, city horse race, bicycle and motor cycle races and men's foot race. Entries should be filed with Charles Belliel, either personally or by mail.

Aside from the races mentioned there will be a score or more of other races, contests and amusing exhibitions which will be held on the principal streets of the city. There will be something doing here every minute, from the opening round of the Perkins-debush bout at the Grand Opera House on the night of the 3rd, to the end of the dance at the Armory on the morning of the 4th.

Owners of automobiles are invited to participate in the Rhinelander parade. It is urged that all cars be decorated as well as brilliantly lighted.

The complete program of the day's events will appear in the next issue of this paper.

"NOT GUILTY" SAYS THE PECOR JURY

After deliberating from 6:30 o'clock Friday evening until 1:20 o'clock Saturday morning the jury in the case of John Pecor, on trial for the murder of his wife in Wahpeton, N. D., returned a verdict of "not guilty."

The case was a sensational one and occupied four days. Sixteen witnesses were produced by the state while the defense had only one witness. Pecor's attorneys were James Dwyer of Hankinson and Charles Wolf of Wahpeton.

Mrs. Pecor, whose maiden name was Grimmer and who also formerly resided in Rhinelander, was shot and killed in her home in Hankinson, N. D., last December 29. Her husband who was with her at the time was arrested charged with her death.

The story of the shooting as told by Mr. Pecor has been given wide publicity in this city and is familiar to every one who has followed the case. The husband's plea was that of accidental shooting. He stated that while he was examining a rifle, which he did not know was loaded, the weapon accidentally discharged the bullet striking his wife. The jury evidently considered his story convincing.

Mr. Pecor is at present in the city and will remain a week before going to St. Paul to accept a position in a meat market. He feels very elated over his acquittal, although he says that it was only as he had expected.

George Johnson went to Minocqua today to play at a dancing party.

"Clincher" Paint

We know a paint which holds to the wood like a driven nail. Seasoned lumber is porous. The pores are the empty sap-cells. White lead paint, which dries on the wood in the form of a solid, elastic film, fastens into these pores, and the whole coat of paint is actually riveted like armor-plate to the surface it decorates and protects.

Red Seal White Lead and Pure Linseed Oil

make the paint that spreads into a solid body. It becomes a part of the wood itself—an outer layer that preserves the life of the lumber.

We sell it as well as other painting requisites. Come in and have a talk with us about painting.

Flng Day Saturday, June 14, was not largely observed in Rhinelander. Only a few citizens displayed the stars and stripes on their homes while flags, waved from two or three public buildings. This is not due to lack of patriotism but rather, it is believed, to the fact that most people did not know it was Flng Day. The day is not given the publicity that it should receive.

MANY NEW SETTLERS

Land Movement in Harshaw District Is Active

C. P. Crosby has just closed a deal with Mons J. Lokken of Independence Wis., for the sale of two hundred acres of land near Harshaw. Wis. Mr. Crosby also sold forty acres in the Harshaw district to Charles H. West of Shelbyville, Ind. Mr. West previously owned forty acres there and decided to increase his holdings. According to Mr. Crosby the prospects for new settlers in Oneida county this year were never better.

FEW HAVE SPEED CRAZE

Chief of Police Straub says that there are a few owners of automobiles in this city who are addicted to the speed craze and he advises these drivers to get rid of the "bug" before it brings them into municipal court. As a whole the chief admits that the auto drivers of this city are very careful and give no cause for trouble.

"It is among the young people that I find the most recklessness displayed in driving," said the chief. "I have warned two or three that unless they cut out their joy riding along certain streets at night that I will arrest them. A fine of twenty-five dollars and costs would not be so comical."

CONVICTS SHOW SYMPATHY

A pall made of pink and white flowers and large enough to completely cover the casket in which rest the remains of Mrs. Nellie Kramer, wife of Ben. P. Kramer, and daughter of Warden and Mrs. Daniel E. Woodward of the state prison, at Waupun, was one of the touching tributes of sympathy which was in evidence at Mrs. Kramer's funeral. It was the gift of the convicts of the state prison, each one of whom contributed his mite toward the remembrance. It was the first time as well of an instance known where the convicts of the state prison made an expression of sympathy of that kind.—Merill News.

Rev. Woodward was formerly pastor of the Scott M. E. church in Merrill and has many friends in Rhinelander who sympathize with him in his bereavement.

THOSE NAUGHTY JUDGES.
Certainly the squabble among the members of the state supreme court is interesting. It is said "When thieves fall out honest men get their dues."

When the sanctified judges tell tales out of court what will be the effect? The day is past when the thinking people look upon judges as of any higher order than other politicians. The fact is a large number of judges were corporation lawyers before they took their dignified position and can not throw off their own ways of thinking.

MORRIS FOR SENATOR.
Ident. Gov. Thomas Morris, Saturday, announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for United States senator to succeed Isaac Stephenson. His announcement follows:

"I hereby announce that I shall be a candidate at the primaries in 1914 for the Republican nomination for United States senator. The report having gained currency that I would be a candidate for governor or senator, I feel, in justice to all concerned, that I should make known my intentions at this time."

The announcement is made more than a year in advance of the primary, because, the lieutenant governor says that having made up his mind he sees no reason for not letting his candidacy be known. It also will serve to clear up the Wisconsin political situation in view of discussion there has been that Mr. Morris might become a candidate for governor.

Friends of Ident. Gov. Morris assert he will have the united support of the LaFollette Republicans. In view of the general understanding that Gov. McGovern is determined to seek the senatorship, a hard political battle is predicted between LaFollette Progressives backing Mr. Morris, and the McGovern followers which include some of the Bull Moose men and a portion of the Republicans.

The primary will be held in September, 1914, and the successor to Senator Stephenson will be elected by the people in the following November. In 1910, Mr. Morris was a candidate for governor, but when J. E. McGovern entered the field and it appeared that the Progressive forces would be split, and the nomination of both be endangered, Mr. Morris voluntarily withdrew, threw his strength to Mr. McGovern and assisted in the latter's nomination.

Mr. Morris has been a member perhaps the foremost LaFollette leader in state affairs since the election of I. L. Stewart, Superior, to congress, taking him out of state politics.

Ident. Gov. Morris is 52. He was born on a farm in Canby, attended common schools and Bedford academy, graduated from the University of Wisconsin law school in 1889, served two terms as district attorney of La Crosse county, and was twice elected chairman of the Seventh district Republican congressional committee. He was elected to the state senate in 1904, re-elected in 1908, and in 1910 was elected lieutenant governor, defeating H. W. Polens by 52,000 plurality. Mr. Morris has been conspicuous as a Progressive in Wisconsin's Republican councils. In the senate he helped to frame and enact many of the most difficult and important pieces of Progressive legislation.

CONTRACTORS HERE.
The contractors are in the city to take the job of remodeling the Merchants State Bank, which will be a spacious affair when completed. It will cost several thousands dollars to make these changes.

CREAMERY'S LITTLE GAME

The Rhinelander Creamery has opened war on the Crandon Creamery Company, not only in collection of butter fat but in the sale of butter.

The first step taken by the Rhinelander creamery in an attempt to crush Crandon's newest industry was jumping the price of butter fat in the North Crandon district from 23 cents to 24 cents a pound, and the next was to offer butter in the Crandon market at 25 cents a pound, or one cent less than it offered for butter fat. Thus, the foreign creamery is offering more for butter fat than the market price, and at the same time pays freight on the cream to Rhinelander, manufactures it into butter and wants to ship it into the city of Crandon at one cent less a pound than it pays the farmer for the cream.

The business man knows Rhinelander made no gain in the price of butter in the Crandon market before there was a local creamery, and they know that if the attempt of Rhinelander to absorb the local market were successful the price of butter would immediately be jumped to make up for former price cutting losses.

Just to verify the fact that Rhinelander is jumping prices in this vicinity for no other purpose than an attempt to prevent the Crandon creamery from further growth, the price paid for cream in the vicinity of Rhinelander by the Rhinelander creamery will be obtained from the farmers and the price Rhinelander asks for butter of merchants in their home territory ascertained, for comparison. Correspondence with patrons of the Rhinelander creamery in Rhinelander territory will then be entered into by Forest county farmers and business men so that Oneida farmers may enjoy the high price paid for cream in forest county by their home plant, and Rhinelander citizens get cheaper butter.—Crandon Echo.

NORTHERN WISCONSIN

That there never was a time when the inquiry for Wisconsin land for homemaking purposes was anything like it is at present, both as to number and quality of inquiries, is the assertion of A. D. Campbell, manager of the Wisconsin Advancement association.

"For many years," said Mr. Campbell, "nearly all the literature that has been put out on Wisconsin homemaking opportunities has referred to our idle lands as the opportunity for the poor man." The result was that the extremely poor man was all that was secured. In more recent times this has been changed, the opportunities have been described and the public has had left to decide the opportunity involved. The result has been that men of considerable means have come to the conclusion that they would do well to look into the opportunities prevailing in the upper Wisconsin country. At all points where the class of men who are coming to upper Wisconsin are those who are financially able to proceed speedily in the matter of clearing their land and putting it under cultivation. This is not only a distinct advantage as to these particular farmers, but it means more employment for those who need to earn something while establishing themselves on land.

"Probably to one thing has happened that has attracted more attention to the cheap lands of upper Wisconsin than the capture of the world's championship award for alfalfa. Those who heretofore have been skeptical as to the value of upper Wisconsin land had their senses abruptly awakened when the news came from the national corn show that upper Wisconsin had taken the prize they all most wished to get.

"The recent establishment of a bank at Winter is but a smattering of the progress that is going on in the north. Two years ago Winter was a hamlet, best known as the home of John Pierz. Today it is a bustling town and is becoming a fine town.

"Two industries that will grow rapidly in the north country are the canning and cattle feeding on cut over lands. Last year was one of great activity in the former industry and this season gives promise of being the most active in the latter.

"The dairy industry continues to predominate in the upper country as high as four new creameries having been built in a single county last year.

"The banks and other organizations are assisting the settlers in securing good dairy herds. Silos are being built in large numbers throughout the north. Alfalfa is being extended.

"The present outlook is that during the next two years much of the cutover land will be taken by settlers, and upper Wisconsin will be on the road to greater usefulness to mankind and to the state."

WEEKLY LETTER FROM MADISON

Doings Of State Legislature As Told By Our Special Correspondent

The feeling of a certain class of lobbyists toward the anti-lobby bills proposed by Senate Chief Clerk Wyke is bitter. Among these is H. W. Polens, re-elected democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, editor of the Post-Washington Star and a manufacturer.

In a recent issue, the Post-Washington Star attacked the bills, and Mr. Wyke personally in a column and a half editorial. When this attack was called to the attention of Mr. Wyke today, he said:

"Almost every paragraph of this editorial contains falsehood and libel. The damages could hardly be shown by libel from such a source. I do not care to say anything about any part of the editorial except the statement that under the present Wisconsin law no person can appear before any committee or speak to any member of the legislature for or against any pending bill without subjecting himself to a fine for not registering. It makes no difference whether his services are paid for or not."

"It is hardly conceivable that Mr. Polens should think this to be the law, yet that may be the case. It is much more plausible that, if Mr. Polens wrote this editorial, he liberally lied.

"No prohibition is placed by the present lobby law upon any other than paid lobbyists, except state employees financially interested, nor do the proposed anti-lobby bills place any restrictions upon those who come to Madison for themselves or for public corporations other than the anti-trading provision and the requirement that they first register.

"There is a particular reason for the personal opposition of such lobbyists as Mr. Polens. I would not name Mr. Polens if he were not so apt an illustration and so convenient an example of the class of lobbyist that opposes these anti-lobby bills.

"Mr. Polens poses as a democratic party leader, and in his own words before the senate judiciary committee, the most public spirited citizen of his country. In that pose he has sought to influence the democratic members of this legislature and to hold them in line for the Special Interest Tory-democratic program. He licks about the lobbies and committee rooms, seeking out any proposition that has about it a suggestion of progressivism, and uses against it so much of the methods of the old lobby gang of the eighties and nineties as is safe. He says that he appears for himself or for the Wisconsin Manufacturers Association, and that he is not a paid lobbyist, therefore not required to register nor restricted to appearance before committees.

"Several of the provisions of the proposed bills hit Mr. Polens' line. These provisions will compel the Polens type of lobbyist to register as a paid lobbyist; will compel an affidavit of his interest, false statement therein to constitute perjury; will prohibit him treating the entertaining members; and will give some special act to secure evidence of violations and violations of the law.

"There are a number of gentlemen of more or less reputation who pose as 'public spirited citizens' in the capacity of special political and special interest lobbyists.

"The whole of these gentlemen, some the decency of public sentiment in Wisconsin and are determined from making any such loud clamor against the bills as is raised by Mr. Polens. They do not cry so loudly when they are hurt."

Marketing Live Issue

Because of the Republican platform pledges of 1910 and 1912, and despite the crippling of the cause by the submission and insistence upon by Governor McGovern of a loosely drawn and ill considered bill, which resulted in the defeat of the entire proposition in the assembly, the LaFollette Republicans are pressing the anti-trust and co-operative question as a live issue. Two bills are pending in the senate. One of these, 571-S, gives to the dairy and food commissioner and to the industrial commission general supervision over trade, and the other, 572, S, gives the attorney-general comprehensive trust duties and powers.

Anti-Lobby Bills

The passage of added restrictions upon lobbyists is certain as the result of the experience this session. The senate will pass several comprehensive amendments to the lobby law, probably including an anti-trading and entertaining provisions, a state detective bill, and added registration requirements. The bills have been drawn by Chief Clerk Wyke, who is leading the fight for their passage. Their fate in the assembly is uncertain, for the lobbyists have a strong hold on the lower house.

TWENTY CHILDREN GET DIPLOMAS

Dr. Lienfelder Makes Impressive Address To St. Mary's Graduates

At St. Mary's church Sunday evening eighteen children, graduates of St. Mary's parochial school, were presented with their diplomas by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Lienfelder.

Parents and patrons of the school members of the congregation and many people of other denominations composed the large crowd that attended the service. The decorations for the occasion were elaborate, the altar and sanctuary being covered with palms, potted plants and cut flowers. The scene was altogether one of artistic beauty.

In presenting the class with their diplomas Dr. Lienfelder delivered an address in which he emphasized the importance of leading useful lives and developing into good and upright citizens. The pastor explained the reason for the necessity of the parochial school in that it is the purpose to develop all the faculties of the child not only of the mind but of the heart. The pupils are also acquainted with the duties of virtue and the horrors of crime by giving them proper moral and religious training.

Dr. Lienfelder's address was replete with eloquence and teemed with logic, creating a profound impression among his hearers. It was such a talk as will linger long in the minds of the graduates and guide them on life's journey.

The majority of the children who have completed their parochial school course will enter the Rhinelander High school next fall. The class motto was "Watchful and Willing."

First Communion

Twenty children received their first holy communion at St. Mary's church Sunday morning at nine o'clock mass.

Long silk gloves will be a scarce item later in the season on account of the silk strike in the east there is none to be had at the whole sale houses. We are lucky to have a big supply on hand, and are priced reasonable. Hart.

CONCERTS POPULAR

The concerts each Tuesday night by the Military band are proving very popular with the citizens who crowd the down town streets to hear the programs. The music is of high quality.

Attorney P. T. Stone of Wausau, formerly of Tomahawk, is the guest of Patrick Cain, county treasurer.

BOTH BOXERS ARE TRAINING HARD

Perkins and DeLosh Will Be In Fine Condition For Their Bout

Judging from the talk which the coming Perkins-DeLosh boxing bout is creating the contest will be attended by one of the largest gatherings of fans ever assembled at a ringside in northern Wisconsin. The night of July 23 is the time scheduled for the go and the Grand Opera House is the place.

De Losh writes from his training quarters in Grand Rapids, Mich., that he is going through a stiff course of training and will be in first class shape for the match. He understands that Perkins is a hard proposition and is not going to take any chances with the wily lumberjack.

In the meantime the local fan is not letting any foliage grow under his pedals when it comes to getting into condition. Perkins is doing a lot of strenuous gym work and spends part of a forenoon of each day on the road. He doesn't intend to let the Wolverine mixer put anything over him if he can help it.

Promoter William Daniels said today that he is arranging for two good preliminaries to fill out the card which will be the strongest ever offered a Rhinelander audience.

Thrift of Glasgow.

Glasgow sets a splendid example of thrift and enterprise to the other cities and towns of Great Britain. It does not even seem to collect and sell its waste paper and to traffic in scrap iron, thus adding many hundreds a year to its exchequer. Its cleansing department does business with half the counties of Scotland. It owns nearly one thousand railroad cars, and does a wide range of business from dog reclaiming to market gardening and butchers' work.

Fort Scott Witticism.

At a recent banquet in Fort Scott, the Tribune says, a man was called upon to make a speech. Of course he was surprised that he should be asked to talk, but he was equal to the occasion, and he stood up and said: "Gentlemen, you have been eating a turkey stuffed with sage now you will listen to a sage stuffed with turkey." Everybody laughed, and the man immediately became known as a famous wag, and the mot is highly esteemed in those parts.—Kansas City Star.

Some Consolation.

We like a girl who looks on the bright side of things. Miss Murnford wished to console a friend of hers who had become engaged, somewhat against her own will, to a man with only one leg. "But think, my dear," said Miss M. "how soon you will be able to run him up a pair of slippers!"

Runaway.

"I think old fellow," began Mr. Familyman. "It is time you were beginning to hunt for a wife." "To hunt for one?" replied the highly eligible bachelor. "You mean it is time I gave up avoiding one and allowed myself to be captured?"

Born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Nelson of Tripoli, a daughter at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Gleason.

Reminiscence Not Pleasing.

Once while canvassing his state during a political season, John Quincy Adams was approached by a well-to-do farmer, who introduced himself and said: "Mr. Adams, I'm glad to meet you; my wife remembers you well; she was in your family when you were a boy, and often combed your hair." "Well," said Mr. Adams, sharply, "I suppose she combs yours now."

Italian Marriage Brokers.

In Italy marriage brokers are a regular institution. They have pocketbooks filled with the names of marriageable maidens in various ranks of life, and go about trying to arrange matches. When they are successful they receive a commission, and very likely something extra as a voluntary gift from their customer.

Saw Humor in Situation.

Joseph Jefferson, wrote Mary Shaw in the Century, was once introduced at a club by a blundering chairman as "Mr. Washington Irving—I-I—mean—Mr. Rip Van Winkle—I—I—mean Mr. Joseph Jefferson." Mr. Jefferson, being somewhat deaf, did not hear this, and misunderstood the prolonged laughter that greeted him as he rose. On its real cause being later explained to him, he was relieved, and exclaimed, "Good heavens! I don't wonder they roared at that tripping down the scale."

Austrian Girls to Learn to Cook.

Cookery had never been taught in Austrian schools until last September, when the minister of education added it to the curriculum of all girls' schools under his control, both elementary and advanced. He further stipulated that any girl taking up modern languages or other extra subjects shall be compelled to include cookery in her school course. In order to carry out the innovation as cheaply as possible, restaurants are run in connection with the larger schools in populous centers.

Nails Protect Piling.

Some of the piles in use in Amsterdam are 300 to 400 years old. That part which is not in the ground is often bored by a pile worm near the surface, but is preserved by driving in nails with very large heads, so as to give the pile an iron coating. This coating is then transformed by the water into a layer of rust, which protects the wood from the pile worm. This process must be repeated every fifteen years.

Reversing the Order.

A bishop tells a story of a nervous curate who, in his announcement of the banns of marriage for two couples, made the mistake of declaring that the first couple were "for the first time of asking," and the second "for the third time of asking." Realizing his mistake only when he had finished, the curate nervously added: "And the first shall be last, and the last shall be first."

Nature's Method of Protection.

There have been brought to light an astonishing number of forms of fish, and especially of prawns of a brilliantly red color, living in the ocean at a depth of 3,000 feet. But, astonishing as it may seem, these brilliantly colored fish and prawns, instead of being conspicuous in the water at that depth, are nearly invisible, when almost any other color could be easily seen.

One Bright Spot.

An English clergyman was visiting his parishioners, when one of them, an old woman, informed him that since they met "she'd gone through a sight of trouble. Her sister was dead, and there was a worse job than that—the pig died all of a sudden; but it pleased the Lord to tak' him, and they mourn, they maa' bow." Then the poor old lady brightened up, and said: "But there's one thing, Master Allen, as I can say, and ought to say, the Lord's been pretty well on my side this winter for greens."

Sound Teeth And Good Looks

CALIFORNIA'S AUTO LAWS.

The session of the California Legislature just ended created in addition to the widely discussed alien land bill, a measure completely remodeling the automobile laws of the state. As the second state in the union in the number of automobiles owned, this action assumes more than ordinary importance.

Under a new law which has just been signed by Gov. Johnson a new license system is established, new rules of the road created and a radical departure made, at least so far as western states are concerned, by transferring the issuing of licenses from the Secretary of State to the State Engineer.

Another notable feature of the new law is its provisions regarding the automobile warning signal. By its enactment California becomes the first state to legally define what constitutes an adequate signal, and also to make unlawful the use of all signals "for any purpose except as warnings of danger."

The law provides that every motor vehicle shall be equipped with a signaling device "capable of emitting an abrupt sound, adequate in quality and volume to give warning of the approach of such vehicle."

This section of the law was framed only after most careful consideration of the subject by representatives of motor organizations and others, and a study of the regulations in force in the larger cities throughout the country.

The topography of the state and its widely varying road conditions made the question of the warning signal an important one.

Investigations which preceded the passage of the law the inadequacy of the horn blown by a rubber bulb had been shown so clearly that even non-motorists agreed that something should be done in the interest of public safety to require a signal of greater effectiveness. It is interesting to note that only a small minority of the state legislature are automobile owners.

EVENTS OF WEEK IN OTHER TOWNS

Items Of More Or Less Importance Boiled Down From Neighboring Exchanges

New London—

Mrs. Water Derber died here as the result of burns received when she attempted to hasten the lighting of a fire with kerosene on Saturday last. Enveloped in flames she rushed from the house when the accident happened and was saved from immediate death by her husband. Over one-third of her body was covered by the burns. She is survived by her husband and two small children.

Ironwood—

Gerhardt Reichl and Donald Welch two Ironwood young men, started from here last week on a trip around the border of the state of Wisconsin. Both were dressed in khaki suits and Mr. Reichl trundled a wheel barrow which was made especially for the trip. The walk is being made in the interests of McFadden's Physical Culture Magazine and the two will defray the expenses of the jaunt by taking subscriptions for that periodical. They expect to be back in Ironwood in October.

Gladstone—

Just as he finished his work of connecting up some high voltage wire and called to his fellow workman on the ground below that he was coming down, Herman Habermann, aged 38, for the past eight years superintendent of the Gladstone municipal lighting plant, came in contact with a wire carrying 2,300 volts of electricity and was instantly killed. His body fell across another high tension wire and rested there until it was rescued. He leaves a family.

Florence—

Napoleon Rockon, city marshal of Florence, has in his possession a freak chicken with three legs. The fowl is proving a big curiosity.

Barron—

H. D. Jennings, a farmer about 60 years old was almost instantly killed by lightning Saturday, while in the hay mow in his barn. When found he was lying directly under the hay fork, down which the lightning had come. It also set the barn on fire but this was extinguished before much damage had been done. Everything is in readiness for the big home coming Carnival here June 19-20 and 21. Over seven hundred dollars was raised by the citizens of Barron for the occasion and a big crowd is expected.

Park Falls—

G. W. Carrington and George Cox of St. Paul, Civil engineers for the Omaha railway company were here this week with a crew of men making a final survey and other preparations for the actual construction work on the extension of the railway from Kaiser to Park Falls, which will commence early next week. Palmer & Young of Minneapolis, have the contract for the construction work and according to their contract the road must be completed by November 1st.

Stevens Point—
The Whiting Plover paper mill was shut down last Friday and will probably be closed for about four weeks. This was found to be necessary while extensive improvements are being made on the mill. The changes which are being made include the raising of the roof on the machine room one story; new concrete floors put in the entire plant; a new water system and later a handsome office building. The improvements will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 and will not be completed before fall. Many of the men employed in the mill have been given positions in construction work.

Superior—
The affixing of Gov. McGovern's signature to the Nye bill requiring all Wisconsin corporations owning bridges partly within and partly without the state to make them available for the use of public under penalty of losing their charter and right to do business in the state, marks the victory of Superior in a long fight for direct access to the site of the $25,000,000 Minnesota steel plant now under construction across the St. Louis river just southwest of the city, and it is believed also determines the route of this and of the proposed St. Paul-Duluth highway.

Washburn—
From the present indications the berry crop this season will be the biggest in the history of this territory. The weather has been ideal for the berry crop and with favorable conditions during the fruiting season there ought to be a bumper crop. Last season more than seventy cars of strawberries were shipped from the Washburn-Bayfield district, and with favorable weather conditions more than one hundred cars of fruit will be shipped from this district.

HOBSON

Mrs. Theo. Seaman was a Rhinelander caller Saturday.

E. R. Gilson was pleasantly surprised by a crowd of friends last Thursday night it being his birthday.

Hobson is getting its first coat of paint. The color is a neat shade of gray and makes our town some swell looking, tell you. A Don't believe it? Come and see.

The saloon is hurrying on its way. It will open for the Fourth of July trade.

Mr. Bailey of Bloomrich's camp had the misfortune to have his left arm seriously hurt. He is now at the Rhinelander hospital.

The stump machine got down in the mud Tuesday. They had some time to get it on dry land again.

If its the news you want the New North is the paper to read.

Millet—The Danube from the Black Forest to the Black Sea.

This is an illustrated account of a canoe trip down the Danube, with bright comments on places, scenery and types of people. Mr. Millet went down with the Titanic, and although the volume was first published some time ago, it remains a classic of travel, stands as a monument to the literary and artistic ability of the author. Vollmer—Book of distinct interiors.

Seven articles by different writers giving excellent suggestions and many illustrations for the planning, furnishing and decoration of the living room, dining-room, bedroom bathroom, nursery, halls, stairways, and kitchen. Bungalow, summer camp and more dignified interiors are included.

America, the crucible in which the races of the world, forgetful of all antagonisms, are destined to bloom into the perfect human type is the theme, exemplified in the life of a young musician, a Russian Jew has lived through the horrors of Kishineff and an exiled revolutionist, daughter of the Russian general who has permitted the massacre. The book is wholesome, and has many touches of sympathetic characterization.

AND THE HORSE CAME BACK

Maurice Straub, chief of police, is beginning to think that it is impossible for him to lose a driving horse that he sold three weeks ago to Dewitt Rogers at Rosevelt. Like the cat that came back or the dog that adopted a man, since the time the horse became the property of Mr. Rogers he has returned four times to Mr. Straub's barn in this city.

It seems that every time the horse is turned out in the pasture by Mr. Rogers he loses no time in making for Rhinelander, a distance of twelve miles.

Logical.

Dottie, aged six, was playing with her dolls. She was heard to remark: "Now, Rosamond, you put on your things and go down to the grocery and get some groceries for me, and then if you want to, you can stop at the courthouse and get counted awhile."—Dullesboro.
